

Glow in the Dark Bats

Paint with early stART First Dough and let your creativity take flight by shining the Micador Dark Arts Magic Black Light on a neon nocturnal!

early stART First Dough isn't just for modelling! Try this technique and learn how to paint with dough. A fun technique with an unexpected medium.

You'll need...

- early stART First Dough - Assorted, 125g Neons, Pack 4
- Micador Dark Arts Magic Black Light
- Printed bat template (see next page)
- Scissors
- A long craft stick or squire

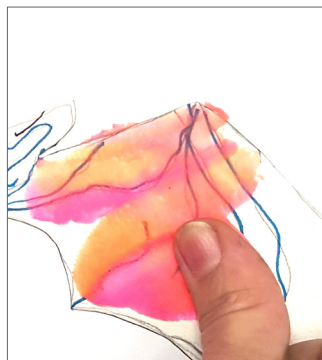

Let's start...

1. Bat-ter up!

Print the bat template attached (as many times as desired).

Alternatively print one, and trace a few times onto our Rains paper for a better quality and more durable end product.

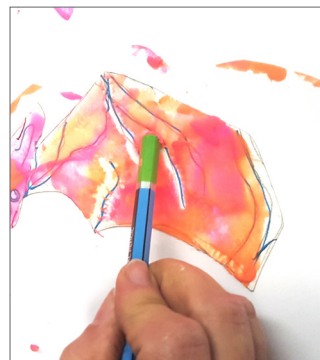

2. Time to paint

Choose a small ball of each of the neon Mica-Dough colours.

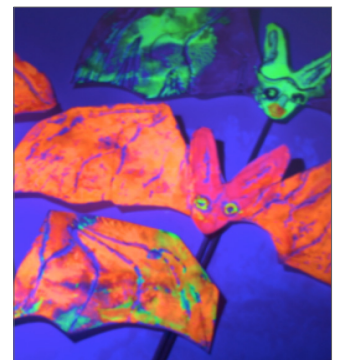

Smear the Mica-Dough thinly over your design. Work on areas of one colour first then more to the next colour.

Ensure you completely cover the paper evenly.

3. Define the design

While the dough is still moist, draw in line, patterns and details using a stiff tool like a pencil end, pen with a pointy lid etc., but be careful as your dough is spread very thin!

4. Ready, Set, GLOW

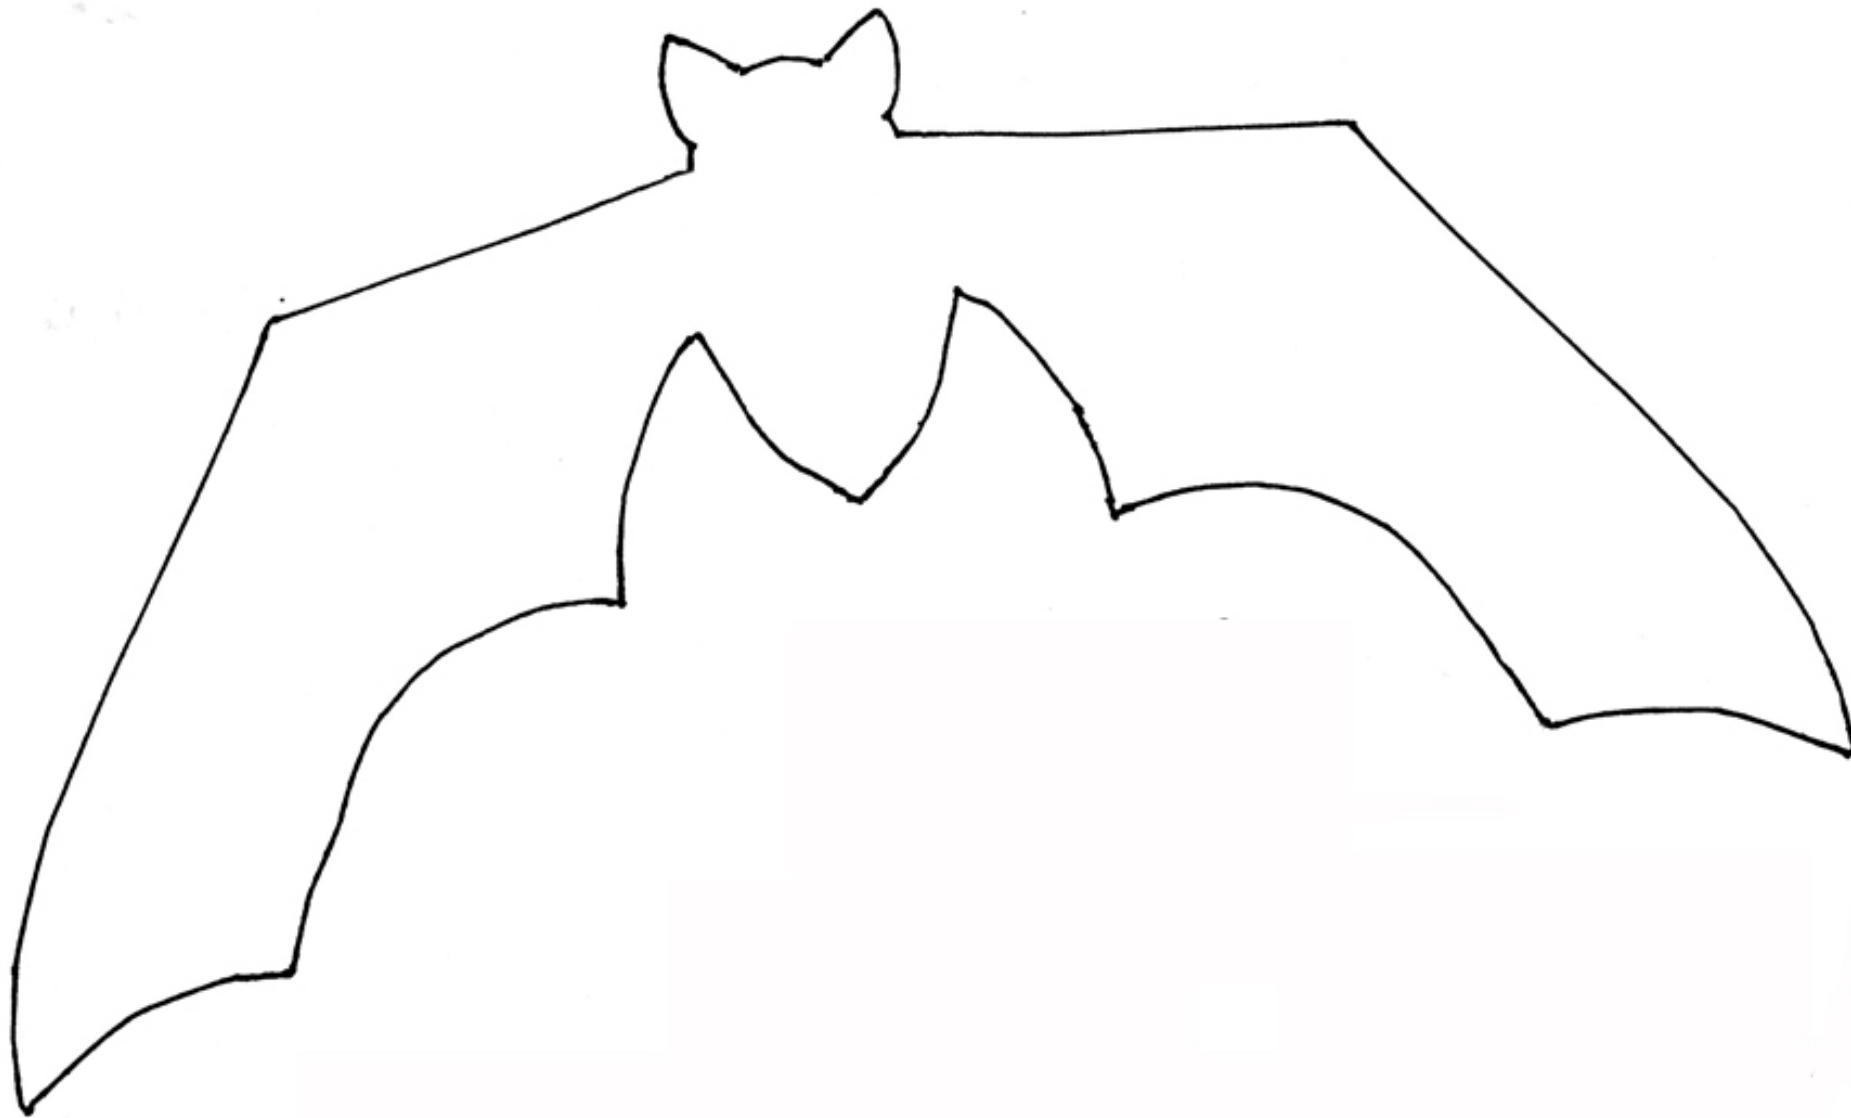

Hang your bats inside, from a tree, or tape a long squire or craft stick to the back and stick them along a path.

At night (or with lights off), shine a Micador Dark Arts Magic Black Light on your bats and watch your nocturnal animals come to life!
